Open singing with Siegfried and Guntram

🕒 Thursday 19:00 o'clock

Singing together and cultivating a range of well-known songs from folk songs to hits from the 1960s is a pleasant experience for many.

Description

Every three months or so, around 25 singing enthusiasts meet as an “open group” for around two hours at a usually different and appealing location to choose songs from a set script and immerse themselves in the world of harmony. Everyone knows that songs always tell stories from different worlds. They are as exciting as a movie, and the special thing about them is that we are always in them. Admission free.
