

13.
Jul 2025

Tour of Austria 5. Etappe

🕒 Sunday 10:30 o'clock

100 years of Großfeldkirch meets 74 years of the Tour of Austria this year. Austria's largest cycling event ends on Sunday, 13 July, in the Vorarlberg town of Montfort and thus joins the 'Feldkirch einhundert' anniversary programme. 'Sport meets culture, that's perfect,' says a delighted Thomas Kofler from Team Vorarlberg. He is convinced that the battle for the red leader's jersey will fall in Vorarlberg. This could well be the case, as the key data for the stages are quite something: after the start in Marktgasse at 10:30 am and a finish, there are three mountain classifications on the programme with the Furkajoch (Cat. HC), Faschina (Cat. 2) and the Dünserberg (Cat. 1). After 144.1 kilometres and 3,388 metres of climbing, the final battle for the Tour stage win and the overall standings will take place in Feldkirch! Translated with DeepL.com (free version)

Description

100 years of Großfeldkirch meets 74 years of the Tour of Austria this year. Austria's largest cycling event ends on Sunday, 13 July, in the Vorarlberg town of Montfort and thus joins the 'Feldkirch einhundert' anniversary programme. 'Sport meets culture, that's perfect,' says a delighted Thomas Kofler from Team Vorarlberg. He is convinced that the battle for the red leader's jersey will fall in Vorarlberg. This could well be the case, as the key data for the stages are quite something: after the start in Marktgasse at 10:30 am and a finish, there are three mountain classifications on the programme with the Furkajoch (Cat. HC), Faschina (Cat. 2) and the Dünserberg (Cat. 1). After 144.1 kilometres and 3,388 metres of climbing, the final battle for the Tour stage win and the overall standings will take place in Feldkirch!

You can find more information here.

Date: 13 July

Weekday: Sunday

Time: 10:30 Start in Feldkirch

Location: Damüls to Faschina Fontanella

Venue

Damüls